Below are the responses to Questions/Clarification requests.

1. Question: "If I have someone working with me who holds a license for the removal of asbestos may I still bid the job? Or do I personally have to have a license for the removal of asbestos myself"?

Answer: EPD requires the company to be licensed and have a certified or qualifying agent working with the company listed on the license. This will allow the company to purchase the required insurance. The successful vendor (s) will also be required to carry the asbestos license from the State of Georgia and insurance in order to properly perform the services.

Sincerely,

Andrea J. McCorvey
